Re: Funmilayo Adeyemi v. Babatunde Adeyemi

Matter No.: SFLA-2026-0147

Client Status Update

Dear Ms. Adeyemi:

We are writing to provide you with an update on the current stage of your family law matter and to outline the next steps. We understand that a contested divorce involving parenting and financial issues can be difficult, and we will continue to keep you informed as the matter progresses.

CURRENT STATUS

Your divorce petition has been filed, and the 30-day response period is currently running for Mr. Adeyemi. His counsel has indicated that he intends to contest the parenting arrangements and is seeking a 50/50 division of matrimonial property.

The matter involves the parenting arrangements for your two children, Adaeze, aged 11, and Emeka, aged 8. You are seeking primary physical residence of both children with structured parenting time for Mr. Adeyemi. Both parties are currently residing in the matrimonial home pending the outcome of the parenting proceedings.

The matrimonial home is jointly owned and has a current stated value of approximately CAD $780,000. The parties' respective income information currently indicates annual income of approximately CAD $62,000 for you and CAD $145,000 for Mr. Adeyemi.

UPCOMING CASE CONFERENCE

A case conference has been scheduled for April 28, 2026, before the Ontario Superior Court of Justice, Family Division.

The case conference is an opportunity to address the outstanding issues in the matter, including the proposed parenting arrangements and the dispute concerning matrimonial property. The court's consideration of parenting issues will be focused on the children's best interests, including their stability, wellbeing and relationship with both parents.

The exact time and attendance arrangements for the conference have not been provided in the current information. Our office will confirm these procedural details and ensure that the required materials are prepared and filed as applicable.

NEXT STEPS

SMITH FAMILY LAW ASSOCIATES

550 South Hope Street, Suite 1200 | Los Angeles, CA 90071

Tel: (213) 555-0148 | Jalin Sue, Esq.

- Continue monitoring the 30-day response period and any response or materials served by Mr. Adeyemi or his counsel.
- Prepare the financial disclosure and supporting documentation required for the matter.
- Prepare and review the proposed parenting arrangements for presentation at the case conference.
- Organize the relevant documents and information concerning the matrimonial home and other financial issues.
- Prepare the materials required for the April 28, 2026, case conference.

WHAT WE NEED FROM YOU

Please provide any outstanding financial documents requested by the firm, including recent income information, bank statements, information concerning the matrimonial home, and details of any other assets or liabilities.

Please also advise us promptly of any significant change affecting Adaeze or Emeka, including changes to their school, health, living arrangements or regular schedule.

MOVING FORWARD

At this stage, it is not possible to predict the outcome of the contested parenting or property issues. The matter will continue to develop as the parties' exchange information and the court considers the issues before it.

Our focus will remain on preparing your matter carefully, maintaining accurate financial and parenting information, and supporting arrangements that promote the children's stability and wellbeing.

Please remember that you do not need to manage the procedural aspects of the matter alone. If you receive correspondence or documents from the other party or their counsel, please forward them to our office so they can be reviewed and placed on the file.

If you have questions about the administrative status of your matter or the documents required from you, please contact our office. For substantive legal advice concerning your rights or legal strategy, Jalin Sue, Esq. will assist you.

Yours sincerely,
